HAND CUT OFF

Charles Lukedens Has Great Misfortune at Mitchell Mine

A shocking accident occurred at the Mitchell mine near Pine Grove last Monday morning. Charles Lukedens was in charge of the saw mill recently installed at this mine. While operating the same on the morning in question he reached under the saw while it was in motion to clear away some bark. While so doing his right hand came in contact with the teeth, and in an instant the hand was cut off in a diagonal direction from the base of the thumb to the little finger. The blood spurted in a stream from the severed artery. Fellow employes realized the danger of death from hemorrhage unless prompt measures were adopted to staunch the flow of blood. Bandages were tied tightly around the arm below the shoulder, and in this way the blood was controlled in a great measure. The injured man was brought to Jackson as soon as possible. At the county hospital Drs Endicott and Gall at once decided that amputation of the hand was the proper thing, and the operation was performed at once, the hand being taken off at the wrist. The operation was entirely successful, and the patient is doing as well as could be expected. The victim is a married man, having a wife and one child dependent upon his earnings. He was industrious and steady, and the lamentable accident is deplored by the whole community, rendering him crippled for life.

He is 30 years of age, a native of this county, and son of the late L Ludekens, for several years supervisor of the county representing township three.

Jackson Boy Successful

Charles E. Parker, son of F. W. Parker, who has been employed as cashier for Wells Fargo Company at Stockton, has been transferred to San Francisco by the company, and will be advanced to another position, the nature of which we are not as yet able to learn. Young Parker was born in Jackson 22 years ago, and spent most of his youth here. As an employee of the company, which now employ him, his services were found to be commendable, and he was rapidly advanced from the lowest position to that of cashier in Stockton.

CITY ELECTION HAS BIG VOTE

Barton and Lucot New City Trustees; Kelley Re-Elected

The city election of Jackson took place last Monday—the second election since incorporation. It was the most exciting contest since the city was organized, and the vote was by far the largest ever cast. A total of 419 votes being polled in the three precincts. This would indicate that there are over 500 voters living within the city limits. About 450 were enrolled on the new great register, and it is estimated that about 100 more were on the old printed register, and were entitled to vote, although not having applied for registration this year. The unprecedented number of candidates was the magnet that drew the crowds to the polls, each candidate having his earnest and active supporters.

The saloons were all closed from the opening to the closing of the polls. Everything passed off quietly. There was not a disturbance of any kind during the day, after the result was made known early in the evening there was no cheering or demonstration on the streets.

The outcome was largely forecast beforehand. The men supported by the saloon element won out, with one exception, namely Kelly for clerk. The following is the vote by precincts for the various candidates. It will be noticed that while there was but one candidate for treasurer on the ballot, nearly one half the voters ignored that office—they would not take the trouble to stamp, for in that square, as it was a sure thing anyway.

OLD MINE SOLD

Bellwether of the Bright Estate Brings Nearly $30.000

The disposal of the property of the Bright estate, including the slaughter-house ranch and the Bellwether mine, came up before the superior court last Saturday on the hearing on confirmation of sale previously made to Mrs Martha Bright, the surviving widow and principal heir. She bid in the mine and ranch for $12,500. This was a low rate much below its appraised valued. It was done for the purpose of facilitating the sale, and getting the matter fairly before competitive bidders, as it was well known that the price would be raised when the sale came before the court for confirmation. Saturday morning the prospective bidders were on hand, and the price was at once raised the necessary ten per cent. There were three bidders. A stranger named Johnson appeared as chief booster. No one outside of two or three who were on the inside, knew who he represened. It afterwards leaked out that he was sent up purposely to protect the interests of the heirs, and run up the bidding to a sum they were willing to take for the property. R. I. Kerr, clerk of the Kennedy mine, and C. L. Culbert, cashier of Bank of Amador county, were the other bidders, each believed to represent separate mining interests anxious to secure the property. The bidding was lively, the price being raised from $50 to $100 at a jump, until over $25,000 was reached. At this point the bidding was confined to Johnson and Kerr, and the latter became the purchaser at the price of $29,975. The

Vaudeville Patrons Are "Stung Again"

Patterson's Vaudeville Show played at Love's Hall in Jackson to a full house. There was a diversity of opinion expressed by the various persons who heard the entertainment, such as good, stung, rotten, etc. As far as we are informed, the troupe tried to amuse its audience with whiskered jokes, and such popular songs as Silver Threads Among the Gold.

We could have given a more graphic account of the performance if we would have received our 'comps,' but when the Press must spend a big 25 cents in order to get a write up, from every green show on the road—well it just don't spend, and we get reliable information just the same, minus the misery of hearing it out. It is to be regretted that the local manager is not more careful in his selection of a variety of amusement, for a cheap show is on par with short-changing its patrons.

File Articles of Incorportion

Articles of Incorporation of the Monte de Oro Mining Company have been filed with the county clerk The company was formed under Arizona laws. The principal place of business is Phoenix, Arizona, and outside of Arizona at Oakland, California. The company is authorized to do a general mining and other business, real estate, patents and evidence of obligations. The capital stock is fixed at $500,000, divided into 500,000 shares of the par value of $1 each; term of existence, 25 years; number of directors, five as follows:

F M Carter, A F Morgan, Fay Chadbourne M Carter and Peter J Crosby. The highest indebtedness to be incurred at any one time shall be $75,000. The private property of the stockholders and officers of the corporation shall be exempt from corporate debts.

BASE BALL SEASON OPENS

Two Games Played Last Sunday by Local Teams

Jackson's baseball enthusiasts were treated to the opening game of the season Sunday last, on the Jackson baseball grounds.

The contesting teams were managed by Dr. Endicott and Frank Valvo, who also pitched for their respective sides.

The score at the final inning was only 22 to 20, much to the dissappointment of the lady rooters who preferred to see the runs total at least 40 or 50 for each side.

Cademartori, who held down second base for the winning team, showed keen judgment in several plays, and M. Eudev, who played on first base did creditable work for his team and the rest of the team—Oh well, of course they were fine?

However, the star features of the dav were furnished by Bob Kerr. Robert surely did swat the small sphere, and beat it around those bags. Doc. should have excused him from paying $4.00 loss fine. A feature which created much excitement and was pulled off just at the right stage was executed by Dave Mason in a sensational catch. The right fielder ran a distance, caught his bail and fell to his knees before he could recover himself.

About 7:30 p. m., the players assembled in the National hotel dining room, to partake of the feast which included (we are told) all the good things that can grace a banquet table. Raviola and speeches, wine and cheers were indulged in, and the evening voted a

BRANDY CASE UP

Molfino Illicit Brandy Case Reported to be Settled

It is reported that the charge of illicit brandy that was pending against Mrs Marguerite Molfino has been compromised. It will be remembered that seven barrels of brandy, upon which no revenue tax had been paid, were found over a month ago buried on the Molfino ranch. They were seized by the federal officials, and also the distillery. We are told that after considerable negotiations between the revenue officers and the representatives of the defendant, the matter has been settled. The sum of $3000, according to rumor, was the price of the compromise. Albert Molfino, an attorney of San Francisco, represented his mother in this settlement.

The criminal charge of selling liquor to Indians living on the reservation came up for arrraignment in San Francisco on the 26th of last month. Mrs Molfino, the defendant, was represented by Albert Molfino in this case likewise. We have not heard when the case is likely to come to trial.

Attorney Molfino is in the office of attorney Damm of San Francisco, who is the legal adviser of McCarthy, the mayor of that city.

Road and state poll taxes are now due and payable to the assessor, and will be delinquent in August. Pay up and avoid the penalty. tf.

MINE NEWS ALONG LODE

Tailing Plant Results Said to Be Very Encouraging

The cyanide mill, owned by Darrow and Fitzsimmons, which has a 5 year lease on the tailings of the Bunker Hill Mining Co., reports elegant results obtained through their methods of securing the fine gold. The plant is located north of the mine, along the Rancheria creek, and is operated under the foremanship of Wilton E. Darrow. In the two mills now being operated, there are large wheels, the first carrying 6 trays and the second 8 trays upon which the fine sulphurets are caught. A third and larger mill is now being considered, and may be erected shortly.

New cement walks are being laid at the office of the Kennedy mine. The general appearance of the ground works are being put into tasty shape, and the new walks will add greatly to the beauty of the mine headquarters.

Mr Carr, late foreman of the Kennedy Extension, has not been heard from since he and family left this city two weeks ago. The general impression is that he has skipped for good.

Chester Holtz, a miner employed at the Kennedy mine, met with a painful injury about 9:30 on Monday morning last while at work abont the 28th level. Young Holtz was in the act of passing timbers up to his fellow workmen, when a rock from the top of the stope fell, striking him on the left hand, badly cutting the thumb and first finger. Dr. Gall dressed the wound, and no serious trouble is anticipated.

THAT EXPERT'S REPORT.

The expert's report on the books of county officials which was published exclusively in full in the Ledger last week, is far more remarkable for its shortcomings of omission than of commission. It must be conceded that the expert has made a pretty thorough examination of the revenue receipts and disbursements in the various branches of the county government as shown on the face of the account books of the respective officials. His search was evidently aimed at the discovery of clerical inaccuracies or oversights, which are almost sure to be found in any complex bookkeeping, and which do not involve intentional wrong-doing. Such mistakes are expected, as inseparable from human endeavor. Where nothing more than such clerical irregularities are expected to be unearthed, the proposition of uncovering them is a losing game from the standpoint of the taxpayers. The experience we have just had in the expert business is an emphatic illustration of this point. Fifteen months have been consumed in the make-up of the document presented to the board of supervisors this month, and the total cost, at $5 per diem, has run up to the neighborhood of $1200. The outcome is a statement of errors against the county of $67.68, and in favor of the county of $43.03. From this it appears that if a settlement is ever had, and the pro and con of the account squared, the county will be the net gainer of $24.65—exclusive of the cost of the expert's per diem. In other words, it costs about $1200 to collect $24,65, or an outlay of about $50 for every dollar recovered. Now if this lopsided result included the entire field that ought to be covered by a report of this character in order to convince the people that public interests have been fully safeguarded by official conduct during the four years under investigation, it would not be such a bad proposition after all. It is sometimes a sound business venture to take a 50 to 1 risk to find out that one's affairs are in good shape. But the report in question carries no such satisfactory impression; on the contrary, it conveys the impression that there is something wrong from a legal viewpoint. Indeed it is expressly stated that many bills have been allowed and paid that were not properly itemized—a very serious charge. This is nothing new. It has been ventilated in the columns of the Ledger time and again. But the unaccountable part is that the report fails to go into details concerning these defective and improperly allowed claims. Not a sample claim is cited, nothing but generalization is indulged in, and the taxpayers who have to foot the expert's per diem are left in the dark as to who were the beneficiares of these faulty claims. To have ripped up this subject to the core would have had a wholesome effect upon county affairs that it is hardly possible to overestimate The lead followed might have widened out into bonanza proportions, throwing into the shade the clerical discrepancies cited in the report. Perhaps the expert acted in accordance with instructions as to the scope of his investigations. Be that as it may, the report stops short on the threshold of the most fertile territory. Taxpayers would like to know from an official source whether items have been charged in accordance with the terms of existing contracts or rates which are matters of records. Glaring instances of overcharges have been pointed out at different times, charging that graft was far from being an unknown science in the affairs of local government. But such delicate topics are ignored entirely, or else flippantly dismissed with the remark about claims not being properly itemized or verified.

This latest dose of "experting" is certainly the limit. The demand for bread has been answered by the proffer of a stone. And in this expression of opinion we venture to say we are voicing the verdict of nine-tenths of the taxpayers. In face of this frittering away of public funds, it is high time the employment of an expert were fenced around with stringent laws, defining its scope, the time to be occupied by the expert, and the limit of compensation he shall receive according to population directly concerned by the investigation.

The Ledger proposes to supply a long-felt want by publishing an illustrated special edition advertising the varied resources of Amador county. A canvass will be made at once to see if sufficient encouragement offers to warrant the undertaking.

NOMINATION PAPERS OUT

Candidates Are Securing and Circulating Blanks

Nomination papers were started in Amador county last week, and in a short time this business will be in full swing for state county, and township offices. The first petition was that of Charles F. Curry, candidate for the republican nomination for governor. William Daugherty was the deputy in charge of the matter, and had no difficulty in getting signers. We have not heard of any other petitions for state offices so far.

Congressman Englebright has also taken steps to circulate petitions for signatures in this county. He has appointed Dr Gall, chairman of the republican county central committee, to take charge of his petition in this county. Nomination blanks have been printed, and placed in the hands of Dr Gall, and they will be circulated forthwith. He is candidate for renomination on the republican ticket for congress. He has no opponent in his own party so far. Judge Raker of Modoc county is an apirant on the democratic side, and will likely secure the nomination.

The Ledger office has ready printed blanks for nomination and deputies. Aspirants for nomination can secure all necessary blanks at this office at nominal cost. We wish to impress upon republican candidates the fact that it is no part of the county business to furnish blanks for party nominations, and it would be extremely unwise to accept such at the expense of the general taxpayers. Don't put a club in the hands of political opponents by placing yourselves in a position to be charged with imposing upon the county treasury in a matter so trifling, even though the free of charge offer of nomination blanks be tendered. The direct primary law imposes heavy additional cost upon the county in the printing of ballots and the cost of a primary election, and every candidate will do well to steer clear of any imputation of causing any expense not expressly sanctioned by law.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Jackson Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Jackson readers.

Mrs Mary Lema, 511 E. Washington St., Stockton, Cal., says: "I am pleased to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as I have used them with the most satisfactory results. I suffered for some time from kidney and bladder trouble and no matter what remedy I tried, I received no relief. My kidneys were disordered and irregular passages of the kidney secretions annoyed me. My back was very sore and at times I was lame upon arising in the morning. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and procuring a box, I began their use, according to directions. In a few weeks I was free from kidney trouble and I have not been bothered since. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a number of my friends and will continue to do so.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Social Dance Enjoyed

A social dance was given in Love's hall, Jackson on Saturday evening last, which was largely attended and greatly enjoyed. Kerr's Orchestra furnished the music. Quite a number of young people from the surrounding towns were among the dancers.

Saved from the Grave

"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs M. L. Dix, of Clarksville, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do my work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. Its the best medicine made for the throat and lungs." Obstinate coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, la grippe asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, hoarseness and whooping cough, yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. Try it. 50c and $100. How to Treat a Cold.

An old way to keep a cold from getting worse is to go to bed and get into a gentle sweat and take only as little as is consistent with comfort of drink and of watery foods, such as gruels and soups. If any aching or grip symptoms come up it is well to take a hot bath at bedtime, getting covered up at once, and then take a big, stiff drink of hot water and whisky. Do not get up or get uncovered in the night. In the morning take a half minute shower and a hard rub down in a warm room, and the chances are that little signs of cold remain. Do not take every cold cure that Tom, Dick and Harry recommend and understand once for all that most colds in the last twenty years have been mixed up more or less with grip germs, and grip is not cured in a day.

How to Make a Cat Calendar.

Take a sheet of water color paper 10 by 12 inches and some scraps of black fur or velvet (fur is far more effective). A little to the left and above the center of the sheet of paper glue an oval piece of the fur about 3 by 2½ inches. This is for the body of the cat. Add a smaller piece at the top for the head, attaching two tiny triangular pieces for the ears. Then put two small knobs for the feet and a narrow curving strip for the tail. Glue in two green beads for the eyes and a scrap of red cloth or paper for the tongue. Paste your calendar in the lower right hand corner. The same idea can be carried out in a match scratcher.

Ingratitude.

Lycurgus, being asked why in his laws he had set down no punishment for ingratitude, answered, "I have left it to the gods to punish."

The Writers.

Mrs. Anna Robeson Burr, the author, is a Philadelphian, a daughter of the late Henry Armitt Brown. She is a homemaker as well as an author, has two small daughters and belongs to no clubs, movements or female agitations of any sort whatever.

Sven Hedin, the explorer and author, is a Swede, forty-four years old and unmarried. His home is in Stockholm, but since 1885 his time has been spent largely in the wildest regions of Asia. He is a good linguist and has received titles and medals from various governments.

Harold MacGrath is on his way around the world, having the very finest kind of a time, hobnobbing with ambassadors, lunching in the shade of the pyramids and in the ruins of Karnak, storing his mind with a thousand romantic hints at Athens, at Bagdad, at Benares and Mandalay.

The Royal Box.

Every morning of his life Alfonso XIII. has a good rump steak and potatoes for his first breakfast, often preceded by eggs and sometimes followed by salad and fruit.

The kaiser from his private purse makes a grant amounting to about $15 on the birth of an eighth son in any family of the same father and mother. The kaiser also promises to stand as godfather to the lucky eighth son.

The Princess of Wales has a fan covered with 6,520 woodcock feathers from the wings of 3,260 woodcocks there being only one feather of the sort in each wing. The Prince of Wales supplied the birds, and the making of the fan occupied one hour a day of a woman's time for more than a year.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it.

Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

How to Make a Coat Cover.

Take a wire coat hanger and pad with cotton on both sides, with a little favorite sachet sprinkled on it. Then whip together two pieces of white satin ribbon about three inches wide and cover the padded hanger; then wrap the handle with ribbon and tie a large bow; also take two lengths of about one and a half yards of white linen. Shape the top for the shoulders and cut a small opening so it can be slipped over the hanger. Brier stitch the seams, and in the left hand corner embroider a monogram. This is to be slipped over the garment on the coat hanger to keep out dust and avoid creasing. This makes a pretty gift.

Train and Track.

Narrow gauge trackage is used only for industrial railways at present.

In England street car conductors are paid no more than laborers till they have served two years, when they receive the maximum rate of 12 cents an hour. Motormen are paid a shade more.

The famous engine No. 999, which used to haul the Empire State express when it became known as the fastest train in the world, now occasionally does the ignoble work of hauling a freight train on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg division of the New York Central railroad.

English Etchings.

Women may be peeresses by royal grant, but cannot sit in the house of lords.

The king has power to dissolve parliament even before it has attempted any business.

Survey cameras for use from balloons are now in constant use in the British army.

In England's trade last year there was a decline of 10⅝ per cent in the first quarter and an increase of 10½ per cent in the last.

SIRES AND SONS.

J. H. Hale of Georgia, the "peach king," has 350,000 trees in his southern orchards alone.

Archer M. Huntington, the son of the late Collis P. Huntington, is widely known as a student of Spanish literature and of Spanish-American history, and it was he who founded and endowed the Hispanic society.

Chung Ling, a priest of Buddha, well versed in all the mysterious knowledge that is secreted in those mystic temples of the plains of China, is a student in the first grade of the Franklin school night class for foreigners, Washington.

Henry E. Legler, the librarian of the Chicago Public library, has for many years made a practice of recommending twenty books each for the different classes of readers who use the library. He divides the books for this purpose into books for men, women, girls, boys and young children.

Colonel Charles Chaille-Long, soldier, lawyer, explorer, diplomat and author, has been honored by the American Geographical society, which has awarded him the Daly geographical medal for his services in Africa. The special work for which he was honored was the solution of the Nile source problem.

The Count of Turin, the Duke of the Abruzzi's brother, has been proving himself a mighty hunter in Africa, whence he is returning after a great hunting expedition. He brings back a splendid collection of stuffed animals and skins, which are to form a special section of the Zoological museum at Florence.

Rice.

The most careful chemical analyses have demonstrated that rice possesses more nutriment than wheat, oats or barley. It will sustain life longer than any other starch producing plant. The Chinese and Japanese live upon it, endure great fatigue and work harder than the people of any other nation.

KEEPS HIS VOW

Longest Beard Man In The World

Valentine Tapley, owner of the longest beard in the world, died Saturday at his home, Spencerburg, Pike county, Mo. He was 80 years old.

It is said that when Lincoln was a candidate for the presidency, Mr Tapley, who was a Democrat, made a vow that if Lincoln was elected, he would never cut his beard. The length of his beard was 12½ feet for several years. This is said to be longer than any other beard known. Mr Tapley took great pride in his whiskers, and wore them wrapped in silk and wound about his body.

During the latter part of his life he was apprehensive his grave would be robbed for his whiskers, and in his will he made provision for a tomb of extra strength to guard against this. Mr Tapley declined several offers to exhibit his beard.

He was a large owner of Pike county farming land, and died wealthy. His wife died about a year ago, and after that he failed rapidly. His son, Joseph Tapley, has served two years in the lower branch of the Missouri Legislature.

Living about eight miles from Mr Tapley at Currvville, Mo., is Judge Elisha Gates, whose beard, next to that worn by Mr Tapley, is said to be the longest in the country. The two men were intimate friends, and between them there was friendly rivalry as whisker growers.

The Zeila mine is said to be rounding into a brighter condition, This mine has worried along with poor ore for many years, but has kept its machinery moving, and prospected with hopes of finding something good. This find we hear has now materialized.

In crosscutting west on the long drift that has been run over 2000 iuto the Pleming groundnorth of the shaft on the deepest level, a new ore body has been encountered, which looks very promising. It is 200 feet west of the big and non-paying ore body that has heretofore been followed. It is of a decidedly better grade, but only been cut at one point so that its extent and value cannot be told until further pospecting is done. There is no question that this new discovery has materially improved the outlook for the old stand-by mine of Jaekson, and hopes are entertained that it will return to the dividend-paying list.

While at work in the Zeila mine, Lazar Radonie, a miner, met with a very dangerous and painful injury. A sharp rock struck the unfortunate man on the left heel, inflicting a cut 1 and ½ inches long, and splintering the bone. Small pieces of bone were picked out the wound, which was cleaned and dressed by Dr. Sprague. Several stitches were used in closing the incision.

M. B. Calkins Dies in San Francisco

Malcolm B. Calkins, the founder of the Amador Record, died at his home in San Francisco, on Monday last, after a brief illness. He was 82 years of age. He started the Record in Sutter Creek, in 1891, and conducted it for several years, and thereafter turned it over to his sons. A widow and five grown-up sons survive him.

Two Ballots Voted by One Voter

A ludicrous incident, but one involving a serious infraction of the election law, occurred at precinct 2 at the recent city eletion. The polling place was on Main street, next to Thomas' butcher shop. The election officers were M. Muldoon, C. G. Heiser, Fred Eudey, V. Podesta.

About noon U. S. Gregory was given a ballot. He retired to the booth to stamp his ticket, and soon returned, presented the ballot to the proper election officer. Matt Muldoon being in charge of that duty at the time. The official tore the number off and placed the ticket in the ballot box, as a regularly voted ballot. One or more of the election officers were away to lunch at the time. But when the vote had been thus cast, the voter said he had presented the ballot for exchange; that he had spoiled it by stamping down the line, and so returned it for another ballot as was his right. He contended that he had so stated, and held that he was not to be deprived of his vote by the mistake of the officer in putting it in the box, when it was not so intended. A wrangle ensued, but the upshot was Gregory was handed another ballot, which he proceeded to stamp in accord with his voting wishes, and ballot number two also found a resting place in the ballot box Of course when the ballots came to be counted at the close of the polls, it was found the number was one more than the list of voters called for. Gregory had given a description of the spoiled ballot and how he had improperly stamped it. When the officers of election came to the ticket answering the description thus given, it was rejected.

The incident caused quite a commotion. That it was irregular there is no question. It might have created trouble in the event of a close vote on the contested offices, but the throwing out of the precinct would not change the outcome in any particular.

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY

The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities. Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries snd wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity.

To hide money is to hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

Points Regarding The Census

The census begins April 15 and must be completed in two weeks in cities and in thirty days in all other areas.

The enumerators will wear a badge inscribed "United States Census, 1910."

The law requires every adult person to furnish the prescribed information, but also provides that it shall be treated confidentially, so that no injury can come to any person from answering the questions.

The president has issued a proclamation, calling on all citizens to cooperate with the census and assuring them that it has nothing to do with taxation, army or jury service, compulsory school attendance, regulation of immigration, or enforcement of any law, and that no one can be injured by answering the inquiries.

It is of the utmost importance that the census of population and agriculture in this state be complete and correct.

Therefore every person should promptly, accurately, and completely answer the census questions asked by the enumerators.

The successful candidates are:

Trustees—John Barton, George Lucot.

City Clerk—C. M. Kelly, reelected.

Marshal—Frank Sanguinetti.

Treasurer—C. L. Culbert.

The excellent record of C. M. Kelly as city clerk was instrumental mainly in his reelection. A strong sympathetic vote was cast for Rickert, and Dornan's candidacy drew some votes that Kelly would otherwise have received. But in face of hostile combinations he came out a winner. He is the only salaried official of the city government that has been honored with an indorsement at the polls.

Windmill for Pumping.

George Murphy has recently installed on his farm near Butte mountain a windmill of the latest pattern, for pumping water from a well for domestic and irrigating purposes. It is giving the utmost satisfaction. It is the cheapest machinery that can be adopted for ranch purposes, and it is surprising that more of our foothill farmers have not adopted the plan. During almost every twenty four hours in the year, there is sufficient wind stirring for several hours to keep one of the air-motors running, and during that time considerable water can be pumped. With two or three of these mills a fine garden patch might be irrigated, and water is the great essential for fruit and vegetable raising in these foothills. The soil and climate we have, and there is ample water to be had with small outlay for windmills. This would place the rancher on an independent footing, and be cheaper than buying water from the ditch companies. With storage tanks, irrigation can be obtained at the time when wanted, and this is not always the case when dependent upon the irrigation companies.

Medicines that aid nature are always most successful. Chamberlains cough remedy acts on this plan. It loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

Game at Sutter Creek

A very interesting game of ball was played between a team representing Jackson, and one selected in Sutter Creek, last Sunday, in which Sutter Creek was victor by the score of 8 to 4.

The score up to the 7th inning stood 4 to 1 for Jackson, and at this juncture the Jackson pitcher confused as to the real defender of the third bag, owing to the fact that the runner and the third base man had on suits that were similar in color, threw to the wrong man and the ball was left pass, resulting in bringing in 3 Sutter Creek players. The hoodoo remained with the Jackson nine, and despite several good plays by the county seat boys, they were compelled to take their caps off to Sutter Creek team.

Jackson players were: E. Brown, catcher; N. Vela, pitcher, B. Cromer, first base; R. Kerr, second base; T. Leach, third base; E. Leach, short stop; E. Vela, center field; M. Calvin, left field; R. Dickens, right field; A. Molina, substitute.

Sutter Creek's title was defended by W. Boro, who pitched 1st half, and played short stop in second half, and J. Steel, who exchanged positions with Boro in pitching, and playing short stop. Boitana, center field; Canvan, first base, Sturach, second base; Malatesta, third base; Betsey, left field; Kaufman, catcher; Casagrande, right field.

The Borello Case

The case of A. Borello, convicted of arson in the burning of the Summit House on Sutter hill over two years ago, came up before the appellate court, on a petition for a rehearing. The appellate court had previously rendered a decision sustaining the judgment of conviction, but upon showing made by defendant's counsel, a rehearing was granted. This was heard before the court in banc last Monday, arguments being heard on both sides. The matter was submitted. The opinion is entertained by many lawyers that a new trial is likely to be the outcome.

The first prize offered by Mr Wells, who manages the gallery was a 1906 Model Winchester rifle. There w three men tied on the prize, E. M cucci, G. Leverone, and Garbari... Each held a score of 27 points. In th shoot off, Marcucci got 27, Lererone 20, and Garbarini who thus far failed to take his last prizefiring at the bullseye is holding his nearest opponent in the sweating suspense.

The wife of the gallery manager is one of the cleaverest lady shots that ever visited this section. Shooting ashes off her husband's cigars, shooting out the light of a tallow, and ringing the target bell with gun sights covered, are part of her remarkable feats.

Now is a splendid time to have those pictures taken.

The holiday rush is over, so we can take plenty of time to get acquainted and bring out your best points.

Also—we have some interesting things in new style mountings.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cockran Seaman, once the popular Nelly Bly of newspaperdom, is now manager of a big business concern in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Jane Sacks of Jennet township, Pa., who is eighty-six years of age, can thread a needle without spectacles and has the vitality of a woman of half her years.

Miss Helen Taft has traveled around the world with her parents. She speaks French almost as easily as English and while at Manila learned to talk Spanish and also the native Tagalog.

Mrs. John E. McElroy of Albany, N. Y., was hostess of the White House in the time of President Arthur, her brother. There are three other living ex-hostesses—Mrs. Garfield, Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Lady Affleck has taken a situation in a shop in London, and the fact has caused a great deal of comment among her friends. She says that she examined her talents when she found the necessity for going into business and decided that her best chance for success was as a saleswoman.

Things Theatrical.

Miss Henrietta Crosman will not play "Sham" after this season, as she will have a new play.

John Drew may be seen next season as Benedick in a revival of "Much Ado About Nothing."

Laura Nelson Hall will play the leading feminine role in Sidney Rosenfeld's new play, "Children of Destiny."

Mabel Barrison and Harry Conor are to have prominent parts in an adaptation from a German farce called "Lulu's Husbands."

"The Midnight Sons" will go on tour after playing the best part of the year in New York. It will probably have a summer run in Chicago.

"The Commuters," which Henry B. Harris is to produce about the middle of April at Atlantic City, is by James Forbes, author of "The Chorus Lady" and "The Traveling Salesman."

Household Hints.

Allow four eggs to each quart of milk in making cup custards.

Even a dishcloth may prove expensive. If dirty it may cause typhoid; if linty it may clog the plumbing.

A spoonful of ox gall to a gallon of water will set the colors of almost any goods soaked in it previous to washing.

Turpentine should be sprayed or sprinkled in the haunts of cockroaches. It will often quite destroy the pests and will always disperse them.

A clean cloth dipped in hot water, then a saucer of bran, will speedily clean white paint without injury to it. The soft bran acts like soap on the dirt.

Law Points.

The mere act of a trespasser in tearing down one's outlying fence after he has been warned to desist is held in Newcome versus Russell (Ky.), 117 S. W. 365, 22 L. R. A. (N. S.), 724, not to justify shooting or wounding him with a firearm so as to relieve the assailant from liability in damages for assault.

The wife is held in state versus Orth, 79 Ohio St. 130, 86 N. E. 476, 22 L. R. A. (N. S.), 240, not to be a competent witness to testify on behalf of the state and against her husband on the trial of the latter upon an indictment charging him with violation of a statute in refusing to provide for his minor children.

State Lines.

In Louisiana the law permits a widow to marry again only provided she has waited until ten months after the death of her husband.

The mineral production in Idaho amounted to $15,060,000 in 1909, a gain of about $250,000 over 1908. These figures do not include the output of the many smaller properties or placers.

Pennsylvania is a large state, with plenty of mountain territory, and it is declared by the state game commission that the number of bears killed there in recent years has surpassed that of the deer.

Money Matters.

Of the world's stock of money $7,000,000,000 is gold, $3,500,000,000 silver and four and one-third billions uncovered paper.

The coining value of silver produced from the mines of the world since 1492 is practically equal to that of the gold produced in that period—$13,000,000,000.

The comptroller of the currency has issued an order advising all national bank examiners that under no circumstances should bank clerks be asked to assist in examining banks in which they are employed.

Facts From France.

Acetylene torches for use in cases of dense fog have been supplied to the police stations of Paris.

The 40,000,000 inhabitants of France consume on an average more than 100 quarts of wine per head per annum.

Edmund Thery, a French economist, estimates the increase in the wealth of France during 1909 at $1,200,000,000.

The coal production of France is insufficient for her needs, although in the last ten years it has increased from 30,000,000 to 36,000,000 tons.

COOKING CRANBERRIES.

How to Prepare This Time Honored Turkey Accompaniment.

Many people eat cranberry sauces with turkey more because they are considered the proper condiment than because they especially like them, but they are a very fine condiment for all meats.

One of the most important points in cooking them is to use only porcelain or earthen dishes, never use tin or metal, and they are better the day after they are cooked, but should be kept in glass or earthenware dishes.

The following recipe will be found very toothsome: One quart cranberries, one pound of sugar, a pint of water. Boil the water and sugar together for five minutes, skim, add berries and cook slowly without stirring or burning until the berries are thoroughly cooked and tender. They can also be made into marmalade that can be sliced with a knife. Candied, they can hardly be told from candied cherries.

The cranberry is the Thanksgiving berry par excellence, but there is all the difference in the world in the way it is cooked. One of the most appetizing ways is to jelly them. Now while seeds and skins are tender there is no better way, which is one of the easiest possible to remember. Wash and look over the berries, removing any that are soft or imperfect. Put into a porcelain or granite kettle that has not chipped and sprinkle over them half as much sugar as you have berries. On top of the sugar crust pour gently half a much water as you have used sugar. Thus if you are cooking a quart of cranberries you would need a pint of sugar and a half pint, or one cup, of water. Cook very slowly. When they break into a boil cover just a few moments, but not long, as you do not wish the skins to burst. Then uncover and cook gently until tender. Pour into a mold. When cold the juice will be firm, inclosing the berries, which will be soft, but retain their form.

Candied cranberries are most decorative and can be used in place of the more expensive candied cherries. Cook in the same way and with the same proportions of sugar and water as for the jellied cranberries. When tender, but not at all broken, take a skewer or darning needle, pick out the plump whole berries, spread on an oiled platter and set in the sunshine or warming oven until dry.

The Busy Bluff.

He come a-raisin' such a fuss

He makes us think de rest of us

Mail Line at Angels Camp Discontinued

During the early part of March, 1910 Railway postoffice inspector Roberts, visited this town for the purpose of investigating the mail line between Angels Camp and Milton. After looking over the route he said he would advise its discontinuance to the department at Washington, as it was not needed. Notice has been received that on and after April 15th, this mail route will be discontinued. Mr Roberts was also of the opinion that the postoffice at Altaville was unnecessary, as the people of that town could be better served by rural delivery, and at less cost than by the present method. It is not known what action the department will take regarding the latter suggestion, but it is thought that the office will not be discontinued. —Angels Record.

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Recent investigations make it fairly certain that man existed in Europe in the latter part of the Pleistocene or Glacial epoch. Reviewing these investigations Prof W. J. Sollas, of the London Geological Society, finds that the work of the comparative anatomists has emphasized the connection between man and the anthropoid apes, especially the gorilla and the chimpanzee; and a comparison of the blood of man and the apes has shown a close relationship that is not to be found in other animals. Man probably diverged from the primates as the ape of the plains, his development beginning with emancipation from forest life. The erect attitude and the greater use of the hand followed; and as he seems to have been very early a social animal, this gave a stimulus to speech. He probably had great bodily strength and formidable natural weapons of defense and offense. With the invention of weapons made by art, natural weapons became unnecessary and the teeth were gradually adapted to alimentary functions only. The Heidelberg jaw, the oldest known, has a purely human dentition, although otherwise strongly resembling the jaw of apes. The brain has grown in size and complexity with the evolution and use of the hand, but to a far greater extent with the development of speech and the consequent exchange multiplication and co-ordination of ideas.

Modifying an old experiment of Paalozo, a German physiologist has shown remarkable amoeba-like movements in a drop of mercury. A bichromate of potash crystal and the drop of mercury are laid a fraction of an inch apart on the level bottom of a glass dish containing dilute nitric acid, and as the yellow ring from the dissolving crystal reaches the mercury, the latter jumps back, then moves to the crystal in a few seconds, and sends forth and draws back long tentacles, with lively twitchings curiously like those of a living animal. The strange play continues until the crystal is dissolved.

Tree-felling by electrically heated wires has been found impracticable in Germany, on account of clogging and the quick destruction of the red-hot stretched wire.

Air navigation in Germany has reached the stage where a network of signal lights for night guidance is being considered, with bells or sirens for use in fogs; and Dr. Bidlingmaier, of the Imperial Observatory at Wilhelmshaven, has lately pointed out that his duplex compass will enable the aeronaut to fix his position with some degree of accuracy without dependence on signals below. The instrument, as described by Consul T. H. Norton, is a delicate indicator of the horizontal intensity of the earth's magnetism at any point. It was used in the late German Antarctic expedition, and in observing a star or constellation gives the approximate longtitude, while directly it indicates latitude with an accuracy of three to six miles. The knowledge of latitude is usually a sufficient guide. The dipping needle can be relied upon when there is no iron in the immediate neighborhood, and a real advantage of the new apparatus over the ordinary compass is that it is wholly unaffected by the whirling and other disturbing motions so common to balloons in the wind. An observation requires less than two minutes. The duplex compass could be used at sea, but is made valueless by the iron on most vessels.

In his novel theory of the canals of Mars and their change of color, Dr Arrhenius, Swedish physicist and Nobel prize winner, contends that various conditions, including the thickness of the planet's crust, have caused the formation of parallel cracks, and that these have gradually filled with sand. Various salts in this sand assume different colors according to the degree of dampness of the soil at different seasons. The "melting snow" at the poles of Mars is regarded simply as an evaporation, and the dampness produced temporarily darkens the cracks. The seas are believed to be shallow, containing much sand. The experiments of Dr Arrhenius have not favored the idea of life on Mars, and he considers the climate too cold to support plant or other organisms.

Zinc has become unfitted for use on city roofs, on account of the increase of sulphuric acid in the air. Copper is costly, but a Berlin chemist has shown that it lasts 11 times as long as zinc in an acid-laden atmosphere, and its wasting is not only slow but even, instead of in spots, soon causing leaks. Lead not much more expensive in thin sheets than zinc, is recommended as a metal enduring air-exposure a long time.

The hydroplane boat with which Capt. Ricaldoni and Lieut. Crocco have been experimenting near Rome, is 126 feet long, is fitted with a 100 horsepower engine working at 1,200 revolutions per minute, and weighs 3,300 pounds, with fuel and two men. Hydroplanes are placed at stem and stern. The propellers weigh 26 pounds each, are of doubled aluminum plating, can have their pitch altered while running, and can be reversed. The hull is raised above the water as the boat develops any considerable speed, the friction being thus greatly diminished. At the rate of 44 miles an hour, a speed made possible by this peculiarity of operation, the hull is lifted a foot and a half out of water, and the planes at the two ends feather smoothly and lightly on the surface.

Ultra-violet rays have proven effective in steriiizing water, and, although the process would seem to be rather expensive, the Westinghouse Company in France has been planning to substitute this method for ordinary house filters. The action of the rays in destroying bacteria has been known many years. In late experiments made by M. Victor Henri, the limitations of the action have been tested, and it has been shown that the voltage of the lamp producing the rays the distance from the source of the rays, and the clearness of the water are all to be considered. With a Cooper-Hewitt lamp of 110 volts immersed in water containing bacilli, sterilization required an exposure of 300 seconds at a distance of 24 inches and only 4 seconds at 4 inches. Increase in voltage had striking effect, and with a lamp of 228 volts, sterilization at 24 inches required but 30 seconds, and at 4 inches less than one second. In turbid water only very thin layers are sterilized.

In its ten years of effort to increase the winter laying of hens, Macdonald College, Montreal, has accustomed hardy breeds, like Plymouth Rocks, to scratch in snow and obtain their food by scratching all day in a foot of straw covering the yards. The active exercise prevents accumulation of fat. The hens and their progeny live in unheated houses, and with good feeding average 200 eggs a year, nearly one-fourth of which are produced during the severe cold of the Canadian winter.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Jackson Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great chance can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Jackson readers.

Mrs Mary Lema, 511 E. Washington St., Stockton, Cal., says: "I am pleased to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as I have used them with the most satisfactory results. I suffered for some time from kidney and bladder trouble and no matter what remedy I tried, I received no relief. My kidneys were disordered and irregular passages of the kidney secretions annoyed me. My back was very sore and at times I was lame upon arising in the morning. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. I began their use, according to directions. In a few weeks I was free from kidney trouble and I have not been bothered since. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a number of my friends and will continue to do so."

Extensive Mining Boom at Camp Seco

The prospects for an extensive mining boom at Camp Seco in the near future are exceedingly bright. Recently the Campo Seco Copper Mining and Development Company has been incorporated and has taken over the mines now known as the Gallagher property. These mines include the Copper Queen, Copper King, Great Eastern and Great Eastern Fraction claims, and have been extensively developed. These mines either join or are close to the holdings of the Penn Chemical Co., and show equal or greater values. The rock carries a large percentage of gold and silver, considerably more than enough to pay for working, and the copper is said to be of a high grade. Work is being pushed by the new company, the first night shift being put on last week. We understand that there is abundant capital behind the corporation to amply develop the properties.—Prospect.

A Miner Injured

David Anth ny has resigned his position as blacksmith at the Argonaut mine. He met with a severe accident a few weeks ago, which disabled one hand. Following the shake-up to his system of being jolted by a street car in Sacramento some months ago, from which he has not fully recovered, he decided to quit work. He and his wife will go to the copper mine near Latrobe, where a married daughter is living, and spend a few weeks.

figure had been reached at which the heirs were willing to let the property go, and Johnson according to prearrangement dropped out at the critical moment. It is quite probable that the price would have been raised several thousand dollars more, but those interested did not care to take chances of the property being left upon their hands. The sale was confirmed, and the purchase price was promptly paid over.

It is reported that about a years ago the administrator was offered $27,500 for the property, which was refused, so that the price finally realized was nearly $2500 over the best offer previously made. The jumping of the two mining claims by the posting of location notices thereon tnree days before the sale, had little or no effect upon the bidding. If the notices were posted with the idea of influencing the bidding they signally failed of their purpose.

The sale of this promising mining property has given birth to much talk as to the future action. The opinion is entertained by many that the Kennedy company, or individuals prominent in the affairs of the big mining enterprise, are the real parties interested. It is rumored that the intention is to work the property as an independent mine, and not by drifting from the Kennedy ground. If this is the purpose, it means the development of practically a new mine on a big scale, that is providing the ore be of remunerative value.

All sorts of reports are afloat about the jumping of the mines. The new owners are not worrying over that phase. It is hinted that lawyers have been engaged to back up the jumping scheme, and that money will be fo thcoming to that end, but little credence is placed on such rumors.

Doctor Poisoned

Dr. Stucke of Mokelumne Hill, sent a hurried call to Jackson for medical assistance, to which Dr. Sprague responded making the midnight trip in remarkable time. The jackson physician found his patient suffering from ptomaine poison, and experiencing severe pain. The symptoms were easily diagnosed, and prescribed for, and the victim made comfortable.
